

Job opening of Assistant / Associate Professor Position (non-Japanese, International Education and Research Laboratory Program of University of Tsukuba. (Aarhus University Center for Integrated Materials Research (iMAT) Laboratory at University of Tsukuba) )

1. Position title:
Assistant / Associate Professor
2. Affiliation:
International Education and Research Laboratory Program, Department of Physics,
Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences, University of Tsukuba, Japan
3. Research field:
Condensed matter physics experiment
Experimental Materials Science using X-ray and/or neutron crystallography
4. Contents of work:
We are looking for a candidate of an assistant/associate professor (non-Japanese), who actively carries out researches on materials science using synchrotron radiation X-ray diffraction study in collaboration with Prof. Eiji Nishibori, Prof. Bo Iversen, and Prof. Jacob Overgaard. The candidate will also take part in education of graduate students at University of Tsukuba.
5. Starting date:
As early as possible after October 1, 2020.
6. Period:
Until March 31st, 2023
7. Required qualification:
The applicant should have a Ph.D., or be expected to obtain the degree before the employment starts.
8. Compensation
Salary: Annual salary system (The annual salary will be determined based on the regulations of the University, taking into account the career of the employer.)
Working hours: Discretionary labor system
Holidays: Saturday, Sundays, national holidays, New Year's holidays (Dec.29 – Jan.
3), and holidays determined by the University.
9. Application materials:
  - 1) Curriculum Vitae (with your recent photograph)
  - 2) List of research activities including peer-reviewed papers, peer-reviewed proceedings, oral presentations at international conferences, competitive research funds (representative), awards, and so on.

3) Reprints of three major papers

4) Summary of past research activities (A4, one page)

5) Future research plan and policy for education (A4, one page)

6) A list of two professional references with complete contact information.

10. Application deadline

Application materials must arrive no later than August 15, 2020 (JST).

11. Mailing address: Send the application material (PDF format) to Email: nishibori.eiji.ga[at]u.tsukuba.ac.jp. ([at] should be replaced with @.) The Email subject should be: "Application for Assistant/Associate Professor (your name)". All correspondence will be acknowledged as received. In case there is no response within 72 hours, please contact to the address of the inquiries.

12. Inquiries:

Prof. Eiji Nishibori,

Email: nishibori.eiji.ga [at]u.tsukuba.ac.jp ([at] should be replaced with @.)

Department of Physics, Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences, University of Tsukuba,

Tel +81-29-853-6118